

04-08-2014 - 100 Women Who Care about Long Island hosting event

100 Women Who Care about Long Island is hosting a meeting April 8th. Christin Paglen JD, VP of development for the Hospice Care Network and Lisa Gatti, founder and director of Pal-O-Mine Equestrian will present on how they will be using their donation to serve fellow Long Islanders.

The meeting is from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. at Jewel Restaurant (Rubie Corporate Plaza on Rte. 110 south of the LIE). After the meeting there will be socializing and networking.

There will be complimentary hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar available.

After their presentations, listen and watch how we select the next charity recipient and learn a little more about each of our members.

Most non-members that attend our meetings are so excited about being part of the group, and making a difference in the community, that they join and contribute at the meeting.

Please visit our website, www.100wwcli.org, to join and nominate your favorite charity on-line.

If you require further information, please contact Dawn Carlson at info@100wwcli.org